Welcome to PWE Writing II !

Homeschooling one son from birth to entry to college and teaching writing online for 20 years to thousands of teens (and quite a few parents!), Brenda knows the most challenging part of teaching writing to your kids is talking with them while editing. She can help! In fact, she writes and produces delightful, engaging films and guides that bring the manuals for WriteShop® I and II to life. Now, you will use the books and videos together in this class!

Course Overview

General Information (Description)

In this course, you'll continue your journey as you build on the skills you gained by taking WriteShop I or other writing programs. You will expand your knowledge of how to write confidently and concisely. You'll write longer papers, edit your work, and make your work shine. With clear and concise instructions, you'll learn to think more deeply as you organize your essays so that you can conquer any timed test or exam. Your parent or teacher will edit your essay and grade each essay.

Course Objectives

Objective 1

You'll review WriteShop I to write creatively, edit your work, and make your work shine.

Objective 2

1.You will cover ways to create credible characters and settings for your history or science studies.

Objective 3

1.You'll discover how to conquer essays and persuasive tools to make your voice heard. narratives.

Course Requirements

For each of fourteen lessons, you will complete a Skill Builder, fill in worksheets, and compose a paper. The points you can earn for each paragraph are listed on the Composition Evaluation.
